

EVALUATING AND GROWING DMM MINISTRY THROUGH COACHING SKILLS

PRACTITIONER MANUAL

Notice to Participant

This manual is based on original material and concepts developed for the iGROW training workshop. Participants are granted permission to use the training resources, including the Practitioner Manual, the Trainer Guide, and PowerPoint presentations.

We would like this training to be spread widely. If you are interested in learning more about the program or intend to use these resources, in full or in part, please contact your DMM coaches. We may be able to offer you a training workshop.

Completion of the workshop entitles you to use and make copies of any of these resources, as long as you make no changes or deletions. You may not repackage these resources without written authorization by New Generations.

WHAT IS COACHING?

Prayerfully asking insightful questions of self-discovery to move toward a desired outcome.

Training	Consulting	Mentoring	Coaching
An expert with knowledge and experience facilitates learning and skill development.	An expert provides advice working with others to diagnose problems and recommend solutions.	An expert guides the development of character and competence by sharing from their experience.	A coach asks insightful questions towards self-discovery, to empower the coachee to move toward a desired outcome.

WHAT COACHING IS NOT:

Not telling.

Not counselling.

Not advice-giving or problem-solving.

Not making comparisons with others.

Not consulting or mentoring.

WHAT COACHING DOES

Generates responsibility – "What is in my hands to change the situation?"

Raises awareness – "Wow! I never thought of it like that!"

Facilitates change – "Step by step, I can create a new habit that brings a different outcome."

Affirms strengths – "I am good at this. Knowing this brings me energy."

Focuses on the future – "I can see a vision of what I desire."

Develops a growth mindset – "I am developing my skills." (Rather than a fixed mindset which says, "I'm not good at this.")

TELLING VERSUS COACHING

Let us compare coaching and telling.

What are the advantages of telling? Telling has some advantages too. What are they?

What might be the advantages of coaching, in comparison to telling?

TELLING ADVANTAGES	COACHING ADVANTAGES

Group Discovery

Think together of instances in the life of Jesus when he asked people questions. Note the questions Jesus asks and who he asks.

Then answer together the discovery question: What does Jesus intend to achieve by asking this question?

You do not have to look up or note the reference. Find as many instances as you can.

THE QUESTION JESUS ASKS	WHO JESUS ASKS	JESUS' INTENT
Example: Who do you say I am?	The twelve	Let them discover and articulate what Jesus' identity is
Example: Whose image and inscription are on a denarius?	Scribes and chief priests	Realize it is Caesar's, and Caesar thus is owed taxes

OVERVIEW OF iGROW

An iGROW coaching session consists of five elements.

- (1) iNVITE – greet, connect with God through prayer, update, build rapport.
- (2) GOAL – the coach leads the catalyst to determine a desired result.
- (3) REALITY – the catalyst views the current situation in relation to that GOAL.
- (4) OPTIONS – explore a range of possibilities of what could happen going forwards.
- (5) WILL DO – the catalyst commits to specific steps to move to the goal.

After INVITING and connecting, a coach leads the catalyst to determine a desired GOAL, assesses where they currently are in relation to that goal, by looking at the REALITY of the situation and raising awareness. Then by exploring a range of OPTIONS going forwards, the catalyst commits to action steps that they WILL DO to move closer to the GOAL.

THE FIVE iGROW ELEMENTS

INVITE in iGROW – HELLO, HOW ARE YOU?

- 1) Action – Handshake.
- 2) What – This element ensures good rapport between the coach and the catalyst. All the following work rests on the rapport and trust between them.
- 3) Why – The coach builds rapport to create a free and supportive atmosphere. The catalyst must feel encouraged, understood, and listened to, in order for the best progress to be made.
- 4) Key activity – The coach connects with the catalyst and builds rapport.
- 5) How do we fulfil the purpose of the element? – You both feel you have built rapport.

GOAL in iGROW – WHAT YOU WANT TO SEE HAPPEN

1. Action – Pointing the way forward.
2. What – Begin the coaching session with the end in mind. You set the target and then you work on how to get there. This element determines the GOAL – what you really want and why.
3. Why – Unless the conversation has an end in mind, it won't lead anywhere. If you do not set your mind to what you want, you won't get there. Defining a GOAL and then being coached towards it radically increases your rate of success.
4. Key activity – The coach helps the catalyst narrow down a session goal.
5. How do we fulfill the purpose of the element? The catalyst has determined a specific GOAL for the session

REALITY in iGROW – WHAT YOU ARE DOING AND WHAT YOU HAVE DONE

1. Action – Glasses.
2. What – This element of the coaching session views the REALITY of what is currently happening, what needs to happen and assesses strengths, and any obstacles to overcome.
3. Why – The purpose of taking a full view of your REALITY is to not miss any opportunities to reflect and then grow towards your desired GOAL. This is where the work is done to really understand where you are in relation to the desired GOAL so that you increase your awareness of what needs to be done.
4. Key activity – The coach listens and asks questions to facilitate the catalyst's self-discovery.
5. How do we fulfill the purpose of the element? The catalyst has gained awareness of the core of the situation

OPTIONS in iGROW – WHAT YOU COULD DO

1. Action – Looking around left and right.
2. What – This element explores a large range of possibilities that could launch you towards your desired GOAL as you consider what first step you take. This is a brainstorming time.
3. Why – The better the catalyst has understood the terrain of their strengths, weaknesses and opportunities, then the better they are prepared to understand the gap between the now and the not yet. In OPTIONS the catalyst keeps an open mind to what options are available to them.
4. Key activity – Both engage in reflective dialogue to explore ways forward.
5. How do we fulfill the purpose of the element? The catalyst has identified several potential ways forward

WILL DO in iGROW – WHAT YOU COMMIT TO DO

1. Action – Steps.
2. What – The final element of the session is when the catalyst determines what action steps they will take in order to move closer to their desired GOAL. From the ideas developed in OPTIONS the catalyst chooses the most compelling steps forward in his WILL DO statement.
3. Why – Even the smallest step increases the energy and motivation of the catalyst. Change will occur with small, manageable forward movement.
4. Key activity – Help catalyst commit to next steps through understanding best choices.
5. How do we fulfill the purpose of the element? Catalyst has committed to specific, time-bound, manageable actions.

Session 3

INVITE - HELLO, HOW ARE YOU?

Key activity: The coach engages and connects with the catalyst

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? You both feel you have built rapport and trust

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS to launch INVITE

- What are a few reasons for you to be thankful?
- What is big in your life at the moment?
- What have you been learning recently?

INVITE GOD – Let us INVITE God and ask for direction! [2 minutes]

What – Both coach and catalyst pray, centering on God and asking Him for direction, in a posture of dependence on Him

Why – We are God-directed, depend on His direction, and turn to Him for direction in our coaching conversation.

The purpose of the INVITE GOD element in this scenario is that together we approach God and say "I need help. I can't live with this chaos anymore! I need you and I want to follow your direction. Please give me insight how to tidy up this cupboard."

Key activity – Praying, centering on God and asking Him for direction.

BUILDING RAPPORT

- Set a positive tone.
- Calm yet energetic.
- Verbal reflection – use words that the catalyst uses to show you are listening well.
- Gestures and facial expression are open.
- Eye contact and smile.
- Confident interpersonal skills.
- Understand the catalyst's preferences.
- Show genuine concern for their well-being.

- Establish clear agreements and demonstrate integrity.
- Punctual, clear, reliable.
- Show respect for the catalyst's perceptions and learning style.
- Champion new growth, awareness and action taken.
- Reframe what failure means – instead of focusing on negative outcomes say “what have you learned?”
- Alert body language – physical posture is essential to altering our emotional state.

PREPARING YOUR INNER WORLD

- The first step to building rapport is to be aware of your inner world.
- Be calm, yet feel the energy of being fully present.
- Alert body posture.
- Eye contact and smile.
- Gestures and facial expression show openness, engagement and support.
- Set a positive tone.

Practice:

- What am I feeling right now?
- What do I want to lay down? (a burden or negative thought)
- What can I be grateful for today?
- What are my two positive words for this coaching session? (for example: calm and alert)

Preparing your inner self clears the way to bring the best version of yourself to the conversation.

MIRRORING

Your key activity to connect is through mirroring.

You mirror the catalyst sitting across from you:

- Their body posture and gestures.
- Their facial expressions.
- Their tone of voice.
- The key words and phrases they use.
- The images they use to describe their world.

They feel understood and accepted. By adopting their pace and tone and gestures you show them your support and alert presence.

Practice: Mirroring

- What gives you joy at the moment in ministry?
- What is the overall vision you desire to become reality?
- What priorities do you see in your ministry in the next three months?

ENGAGED LISTENING

- Listening with the purpose of understanding what is being said.
- Seeking interpretation from the catalyst, not your own interpretation.
- Listening to what is NOT being said as well.
- Observing tone, facial expression, and body language. Communication involves much more than the words.
- Expressing genuine interest and curiosity.
- Checking what is being said by asking clarifying questions and summarizing.
- Mirroring the catalyst's words to demonstrate close attention and rapport.
- Being comfortable with the use of silence and interpreting the type of silence (is it productive or are they stuck?)
- 70% listening and 30% talking as the coach – In order to achieve engaged listening, an hour-long coaching session will have approximately 40 minutes of the catalyst talking and 20 minutes of the coach talking.

SESSION 4 – Listening Skills

BARRIERS TO ENGAGED LISTENING

- You might recognize the situation and then start to employ your own problem-solving skills and either tell the catalyst what they could do, or ask leading questions. A leading question has the answer in mind rather than being open. "Have you thought about...?" "Would you consider...?"
- You might remember your own experience – this may have the effect of clouding your questioning with the emotions you felt when going through a similar experience. Remember that coaching requires the catalyst to find the solution and that everyone has a different experience, even if there are similarities.
- You might get distracted thinking about what to say next – you need to remain focused on what the catalyst is saying, rather than making sure you say something that sounds insightful. Chances are it won't be if you haven't listened well.
- Your own internal dialogue must be switched off – this includes how you think you are coming across, other jobs that must be done, or the argument you had that morning. All needs to be dialed down to bring focus to your client.

- Stress distracts – find ways to manage the stress in your own life so you can bring your whole self to the catalyst and the coaching session in front of you.

PRACTICE: EMPOWERING QUESTIONS

Use some of the following questions to practice engaged listening through questions that build a positive atmosphere and empower the other. By empowering we mean, a state of “I can do this!”

- What have you loved about the last six months?
- What have you achieved or accomplished in the last six months?
- What have you done that you would like to do again?
- What are some of the empowering decisions that you made in the last six months?
- What is one thing you found extremely difficult at the time that you have achieved?
- How do you feel now having thought about these empowering areas?

SELF-REFLECTION: MY LISTENING SKILLS

- If I had to choose between speaking and listening, I would choose....
- When I listen to someone, I tend to....
- I find it easy to listen to people when....
- I tend to interrupt people when....
- When people are expressing their emotions, I feel....
- People I tend to find it difficult to listen to include....
- I become easily distracted when I am listening if....
- The best listener I know is ... because s/he does ... well.
- I know I actively listen when...
- To become a more engaged listener, I need to...
- These are the action steps I will take to improve my listening skills
 - 1)
 - 2)
 - 3)

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? You both feel you have built rapport and trust

GOAL – WHAT YOU WANT TO DO

Key activity: the coach helps the catalyst narrow down a session outcome.

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has determined a specific GOAL for the session.

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS to launch GOAL

You may choose the ONE QUESTION from the following you sense is most appropriate to begin the GOAL element.

The catalyst may be able to state the desired GOAL of the coaching conversation after just one question. If not, you can ask more of these questions.

Note that they are listed in order from general to specific.

- What would you like to work on today?
- What would make our time together valuable to you?
- What would you like to take away from this conversation?
- What would you like to evaluate today?
- What do you hope to accomplish by the end of our time together?
- What are the benefits of seeing this happen?
- How would you state in one sentence what you want to see happen?

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has determined a specific GOAL for the session

Increasing motivation for a GOAL by clarifying long-term vision

Giving your life to something is not just about the outcome, but about the journey of how the outcome is reached. The following areas determine how you are motivated on that journey as you set your life towards the long-term vision.

Passion – What touches your emotions

- What causes make you feel passionate when you think of them?
- What vision stirs your emotions?
- If you had a year to live, what would be most important for you to see changed in ministry in that time?

Energy – What is exciting to do and feeds your joy

- What kind of tasks are you drawn to?
- What makes you feel fully alive when you are doing it? Why?
- What is one thing you have done that you couldn't wait to get to each day?

Fulfillment – What brings you most satisfaction

- What have you done in life that you'd like to do more of?
- What legacy would you like your ministry to have that has most significance for you?

Contribution – Your part in changing the world for the better

- What issues do you truly care about in the world around you?
- What has led you to invest your life in movement ministry?

Regrets – Anticipating what we do not want to happen can motivate us

- What dream for your life would cause you the greatest regret if you never fulfilled it?
- What will you lose if you stay safe in your comfort zone and don't pursue the passion inside you?

Key emphasis: When these themes are considered during the GOAL element, you will see the energy of the catalyst rise, their body language will be positive and the GOAL they determine will be congruent with what motivates them.

Session 5

Increase motivation by clarifying values

The GOAL must be rooted in the values of the catalyst and the wider group. Therefore it is good to clarify what is important to the catalyst.

The question to take away from this about values is Why is this important to you?

Following is a brief list of values. There are many more:

Integrity	Authenticity	Directness	Duty	Strength
Responsibility	Commitment	Recognition	Completion	Exploration
Depth	Achievement	Reflection	Progress	Security
Excellence	Belonging	Planning	Compassion	Honor
Fruit	Influence	Legacy

Key emphasis: When values are considered during the GOAL element, you will see the sense of satisfaction of the catalyst rise, their confidence in the process will grow as the GOAL they determine will be congruent with what is truly important to them.

How to evaluate the goals set according to vision and values

- How important is it to you to reach this GOAL ?
- What goes on inside of you when you think about reaching this GOAL ?
- How enthusiastic are you about this GOAL ?
- What could you do to increase your confidence about this GOAL ?
- What would need to change to make this GOAL more desirable?
- How well is this value reflected in your ministry right now?
- How would you or others benefit from this GOAL ?

REALITY – WHAT YOU ARE DOING AND WHAT YOU HAVE DONE

Key activity: The coach listens and asks questions to facilitate the catalyst's self-discovery.

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has gained awareness of the core of the situation.

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS to launch REALITY

Where is God most powerfully at work? Where do we need to join Him more in what He does?

Where is healthy spiritual DNA displayed and transferred most strongly that we can celebrate?

Where are deficiencies in the spiritual DNA that need addressing?

Where is mission drift happening that needs course-correcting?

DMM EVALUATION QUESTIONS

This list of questions covers a broad range of specifics that can be covered to evaluate an engagement. It is best to ask them on a scale of 1-10 (10 being best) first. Then you can focus on those 1-2 items the catalysts feels needs to be discussed.

- PRAYER: How abundant is prayer and fasting?
- COMPASSION MINISTRY: How well has the compassion ministry been received in the local community?
- PERSONS OF PEACE: How well have people of peace been found and mentored?
- DISCOVERY GROUPS: How well have new discovery groups been started and developed?
- OBEDIENCE: How obedience-focused has the disciple-making been?
- CHURCH GATHERINGS: How well does the community life model a kingdom lifestyle?
- DISCIPLE REPLICATION: How well have disciples been replicated?
- LEADER DEVELOPMENT: How well are indigenous leaders being developed?
- CHURCH MULTIPLICATION: How well have churches been multiplied?
- EVALUATION: How well are shepherds coached to evaluate their churches/movement?

ANGLES TO GAIN A 360-VIEW OF A SITUATION

As coach you invite the catalyst to stand up from where they are seated and move to a corner of the room to view things from a new angle.

REALITY can be viewed from an endless variety of angles. Here are the angles most helpful for viewing a situation. This list of questions is a toolkit for you to draw from. Always be sure to ask the first question in bold, to make sure God can speak into the situation and you gain His perspective more. Of the other questions, you should only use the questions most helpful for a particular coaching session, that help the catalyst gain awareness and get to the root issues of their situation.

You can introduce this by stating: Let's look at this from a different perspective.

GOD – What does God's word say, or what has God spoken in the past that might be relevant for this situation?

FACTORS – What are the factors that led up to this situation?

EXAMPLES – What have you tried already, and what difference have these attempts made?

FEELINGS - What are the relational dynamics at play in this situation?

LEARNING PRACTICE

Identify the value of each angle: What is the benefit of gaining awareness from this particular angle? Answer this for each angle.

ANGLE	BENEFIT OF THE ANGLE
GOD – What does God's word say, or what has God spoken in the past that might be relevant for this situation?
FACTORS – What are the factors that led up to this situation?
EXAMPLES – What have you tried already, and what difference have these attempts made?
FEELINGS - What are the relational dynamics at play in this situation?

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has gained awareness of the core of the situation

OPTIONS - WHAT YOU COULD DO

Key activity: Both engage in reflective dialogue to explore ways forward

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has identified several potential ways forward.

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS to launch OPTIONS

What would help you move forward?

What are ways to move toward your desirable GOAL?

What needs to be done to take this forward?

How can you bridge the gap between the present situation and the desirable future?

OPTIONS TO EXPLORE WAYS FORWARD

Always be sure to ask the first question in bold, to make sure God can speak into the situation and you gain His perspective more. Of the other questions, you only select those that you feel are most likely to lead to helpful insights for the catalyst.

Deeper Questions:

- | | |
|--------------------------|---|
| GOD – | What guidance does the Scripture give or what is the Holy Spirit revealing to me about this situation? |
| DMM DNA – | In what ways is this option going to contribute in:
Reinforcing the DNA of our engagement? |
| LEGACY/IMPACT – | In what ways is this option going to contribute to facilitating transference/conducive environment for Growth? |
| ADDITIONAL INFO – | Is there anybody/organization I can consult or collaborate tackle in this situation? |

What is the clarity that exploring each question brings to the identifying possible steps forward? Answer this for each option.

OPTION	BENEFIT OF THE OPTION
GOD – What guidance does the Scripture give or what is the Holy Spirit revealing to me about this situation?
DMM DNA – In what ways is this option going to contribute in: Reinforcing the DNA of our engagement?
VALUES – What are Biblical values important to you that will influence your response to this?
LEGACY/IMPACT – In what ways is this option going to contribute to facilitating transference /conductive environment for Growth?
ADDITIONAL INFO – is there anybody / organization I can consult or collaborate tackle in this situation?

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS for RESOURCES

- What are the resources needed?
- How can you mobilize those resources?
- What competencies are needed to take this forward?
- Who are the people who have these competencies?
- What are the materials needed?
- What are the finances needed?
- What is the unique contribution that you can make to address this?
- How much personal capacity will you have to work on this?
- How does your family situation need to be considered?

These questions can be challenging, and it is important to remember the manageable steps needed in coaching.

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? The catalyst has identified several potential ways forward.

WILL DO – WHAT YOU COMMIT TO DO

Key activity: help catalyst commit to next steps through understanding best choices

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? Catalyst has committed to specific, time-bound, manageable actions.

This is the element where the deeper understanding of REALITY and the OPTIONS explored leads to committing to action. The possibilities generated in OPTIONS are evaluated, obstacles are removed, and steps are decided upon. Here we move from what you could do to what you WILL DO.

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS to launch WILL DO

How do these insights above inform your strategy for the next few months?

What are a few specific steps that you want to take to move toward your desirable GOAL ?

If you were to pray for one thing, what would that be?

What are the specific steps you are committing to take until we talk next time?

3 R's to ACTION

1) RANK the options – put them in order.

Questions to ask: Which will make the biggest difference? Which will have the biggest impact? What is the easiest to do? What seems best for you to tackle first?

2) RECORD the date by which the action will be completed.

Question to ask: By when is it realistic for you to complete your own action steps?

3) RATE the level of your enthusiasm, commitment and confidence.

Question to ask: How confident are you that you will be able to take these steps before we talk next time?

How do I know we have fulfilled the purpose of the element? Catalyst has committed to specific, time-bound, manageable actions.

INVITE - REVIEWING PREVIOUS ACTION

- What progress have you made since we last talked?
- What did you do particularly well?
- What have you learned in the process?

WHEN ACTION STEPS ARE NOT TAKEN

Insightful Questions to ask

Begin by asking the first two questions to identify reasons why action steps have not been taken:

Value: How important is it to you to complete this action step?

Open-ended: What are the factors that have kept you from taking the steps you committed to take?

If, after you asked the first two questions, the reasons still are not clearly identified, the following questions are helpful. Which of them you ask depends on the clues the catalyst has given you when answering the first two questions, combined with your intuition:

Internal factors: What goes on inside of you when you think about taking the step forward? (Feelings of fear or self-protection may be revealed.)

Internal motivation: How committed were you really to this step? (Explores if there are differing values or priorities driving behavior.)

Internal capability: At what point did you feel you were lacking the capability to carry your step out? (If they have high motivation, this helps them check their own level of competence.)

Self-protection: What do you gain from not taking this step? (This highlights that sometimes we have hidden reasons for not moving forward even if on the surface we want to.)

Alternative: Is there some other action step that would more effectively you toward your desired GOAL ?

Wrap-Up Questions

If time is left, you can ask these:

- What else has been helpful from our conversation today?
- What else have you learned during our conversation today?

CHECKLISTS FOR iGROW COACHES

Who will I be coaching?

Who are the next-level leaders with whom you should have a coaching conversation?

List all of them:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.
- 6.
- 7.
- 8.
- 9.
- 10.

Which of them are you going to have a coaching conversation within the next four weeks?

You will want to start with those who are most receptive and have most potential. Name as many as you have the capacity to schedule a coaching session with in the next four weeks, but at least two to three individuals:

- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

HOW TO PREPARE FOR A COACHING SESSION

- Be well rested and well hydrated
- Have your iGROW coaching manual with you
- Remind yourself of the purpose of each element
- Remind yourself of the key points of the last coaching session
- Bring a notebook, pen, glass of water, and a clock
- Create the best listening environment.
- Minimize distractions.
- Put your phone on silent.
- Do not receive visitors/phone calls/other interruptions just before or during the coaching session.
- Make sure your environment is calm and quiet.
- Make a note of the timing of elements of your session so you don't run out of time.
- Pray and breathe deeply before the start of the session.

SELF-REFLECTION: MY LISTENING SKILLS

- If I had to choose between speaking and listening, I would choose....
- When I listen to someone, I tend to....
- I find it easy to listen to people when....
- I tend to interrupt people when....
- When people are expressing their emotions, I feel....
- People I tend to find it difficult to listen to include....
- I become easily distracted when I am listening if....
- The best listener I know is ... because s/he does ... well.
- I know I actively listen when...
- To become a more engaged listener, I need to...
- These are the action steps I will take to improve my listening skills
 - 1)
 - 2)
 - 3)

HOW TO REFLECT ON A COACHING SESSION

- What did I do well?
- In what ways did I practice the iGROW elements as I intended to?
- What did I do that furthered the catalyst's awareness?
- When did I feel most engaged in the conversation?
- When did I feel confident about the coaching session?
- In which element do I want to grow my confidence?
- Was there any part of the session that was about me?
- What was my level of presence and engaged listening in the session?
- What emotions did I feel during the conversation?
- How would I describe my mind-set during the session?
- What dynamics did I encounter during our conversation?
- How much pressure to perform did I feel?
- What one thing would I like to improve on for next time?
- What have I learned about the coaching process from this session?

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS FROM EACH iGROW ELEMENT

Remember that these questions from each checklist are for you to choose from as appropriate. They are not intended to ALL be used one after the other in the same coaching session.

INVITE

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS TO BUILD RAPPORT:

- What are a few reasons for you to be thankful?
- What is big in your life at the moment?
- What have you been learning recently?

LEARNING THROUGH A CYCLE OF ACTION AND REVIEW

- What progress have you made since we last talked?
- What new things have you learned since our last conversation?
- What is one thing you learned from your action steps?
- What one strength have you demonstrated this week?
- What has gone well for you since last time?
- What are you proud of?
- What have you learned about yourself?

INSIGHTFUL QUESTIONS: WHEN ACTION STEPS ARE NOT TAKEN

- How important is it to you to complete this action step?
- Open-ended: What are the factors that have kept you from taking the steps you committed to take?
- Internal factors: What goes on inside of you when you think about taking the step forward? (Feelings of fear or self-protection may be revealed)
- Internal motivation: How committed were you really to this step? (Explores if there are differing values or priorities driving behavior)
- Internal capability: At what point did you feel you are lacking the capability to carry your step out? (If they have high motivation, this helps them check their own level of competence.)
- Self-protection: What do you gain from not taking this step? (This highlights that sometimes we have hidden reasons for not moving forward even if on the surface we want to.)
- Alternative: Is there some other action step that would more effectively move you towards your desired GOAL?

EMPOWERING QUESTIONS:

- What have you loved about the last six months?
- What have you achieved or accomplished in the last six months?
- What have you done that you would like to do again?
- What are some of the empowering decisions you have made in the last six months?
- What is one thing you found extremely difficult at the time that you have achieved?
- How do you feel now having thought about these empowering areas?

GOAL

INSIGHTFUL ALTERNATIVE QUESTIONS:

- What would you like to work on today?
- What would you like to evaluate today?
- How do you want things to turn out?
- Where would you like this to go?
- What is your vision of the future that you desire?
- What is the best possible outcome?
- What would you like to take away from this conversation?
- What would make our time together valuable to you?
- What do you hope to accomplish by the end of our time together?
- What outcome of our conversation would make it a success for you?

INCREASING MOTIVATION BY CLARIFYING LONG-TERM VISION

Passion – What touches your emotions

- What causes make you feel passionate when you think of them?
- What vision stirs your emotions?
- If you had a year to live, what would be most important for you to see changed in ministry in that time?

Energy – What is exciting to do and feeds your joy

- What kind of tasks are you drawn to take on?
- What makes you feel fully alive when you are doing it? Why?
